The students were also given opportunities to understand the real scenario of the software industry and Getting selected in " TRISHAKTI PVT LTD, New Delhi " as Quality Tester was never possible without the sincere efforts of my APLL Institute.

Corporate Social Responsibility

A corporate entity represents the evolution of a society's populace into working professionals. Since, the roots of every corporate entity are in the basic structure of the society, hence it is important that such an entity should act responsibly towards the society and should try to give something back to the social structure from which it has evolved.

This is a philosophy that we have been following in APLL, since our inception. This is why we have always made sure that we fulfill our responsibilities towards the society by helping our fellow brothers and sisters through a myriad of activities.

Over the years we have joined hands with a number of organizations that are involved with humanitarian efforts like blood donation camps. Here is a look at how we at APLL understand and fulfill our social responsibility through our participation in different humanitarian activities.
